Liability:

The Club, Committee and Organisers accept no responsibility or liability for any loss or injury sustained by Members, guests, or pets in connection with Club activities or functions. However, the Club does hold an insurance policy covering possible claims against a Member by a third party or another Member. The policy also covers damage or loss of Club property which is defined in an Assets Register held by the Secretary.

RULES FOR PARTICIPANTS IN EVENTS

Bookings

A Booking List is provided at monthly meetings with basic information ie dates, approx. timings and costs, providing for names and signatures. Where an event is initially oversubscribed the Organiser may accept added names as a reserve. All bookings must be signed for by a Member who thereby becomes responsible for payment. Names without signatures may be ignored.

Booking Priority Policy

Members and their partners take first priority. Widows of Members come next. The Vice President keeps widows informed of coming events and forwards requests for inclusion to the Organiser. He also advises them to send their cheques to the Treasurer. Other family members or friends wishing to attend an event must have a "sponsoring" Member. They may have to be disappointed if others have higher priority but are usually welcome.

Payment

Monthly Lunches - see above under MEETINGS

Events (ie other than normal monthly lunches) Payments are made directly to the Treasurer by CHEQUE or by bank transfer. Payment should normally be no later than one calendar month before the event. The Treasurer is not expected to pursue payments.

Cancellation

Where cancellation is unavoidable due, for example, to ill health, the Organiser expects to be informed ASAP. Where possible a reserve will be invited and payment transferred. The Member concerned cannot automatically expect a refund. He remains liable for unrecoverable costs.

Admission Fees

It may be necessary or advantageous for the Organiser to pay admission and/or other fees up front. Otherwise these are not usually included in costs of events but quoted for information because most Club Members are members of the National Trust or similar.

Insurance and Health & Safety

The Club does not organise insurance for day trips in the UK. Coach companies must be insured by law and the Club has Member to Member insurance to cover negligence which does not cover illness or unattributable accidents. Cover may be arranged for longer periods or foreign trips. Members with their own policies may opt out" subject to the Organiser's agreement. If a Member becomes aware of a matter which might affect the health or safety of participants, he should first advise the Organiser who will act accordingly and, if not then satisfied, report to the Committee.

Tips for coach drivers

These are normally included in the costs paid by Members and paid by the Organiser directly to the driver. On-board collections are never made.
